

EB_MonUpdate_052520_630p

Hello again friends. Hope everyone had a great weekend. There was rain, but thankfully it didn't rain continuously. Seniors—I loved seeing you on Saturday!!

Day 35 of required instruction—3 ½ more days. Parents—we need your help. We are not asking you to critique the current plan, but to share your opinions, ideas and solutions for future remote learning plans. You can find the survey on the ACS webpage as well as on your school's webpage. Students in grades 4-12—we are also asking you to fill out student surveys to help us create a stronger remote learning plan. You have lived through this unprecedented time and we really need your feedback, ideas and solutions. The good thing about a plan is that it can always get better. The more we work together and communicate, the better our plan will be for everyone involved. You too can find the link on the county and school websites, but teachers may also send you the link via email, Google Classroom, Canvas or Remind app. Please fill it out before school is out for the summer this Thursday.

Day 44 for CN— 1695 breakfast and 1695 lunch meals were prepared and delivered. A big thank you to everyone who worked today. Plans are in the making to provide a summer feeding program with delivery services. We will let you know when everything is finalized. If you are interested in participating, please let your bus driver know ASAP the number of meals you need for children ages 18 and under. Thank you.

Are you ready for the answer to Friday's riddle? (A lawyer, a plumber and a hat maker were walking down the street. Who had the biggest hat?) The one with the biggest head of course!! Did you get the right answer—if so, good job!!

Today's riddle. I make two people out of one. What am I? We'll find out tomorrow!!

This is the week for giraffes! The giraffe is one of nature's gentle giants. These beautiful animals are found in the dry savannas, or tropical grasslands, of Africa where they roam the open plains and woodlands. Giraffes are the world's tallest land mammal, averaging between 16-18 feet high and are characterized by their long legs (6 feet), long neck (also 6 feet), graceful movements and fun spots. Males can weigh up to 3,000 pounds while the females weigh up to 1,500 pounds. More on the gentle giants tomorrow.

Benefit #14 of 15 reasons why we should read every day—Reading is contagious. Your love of reading inspires others to read, especially children. In an age of information overload, it's a fantastic way to expand the mind— just pick a book you like and read every night!!

I hope you had a great weekend and are ready for your last week of school. Enjoy reading in your book before going to sleep and remember . . . I'll be back tomorrow!!